

Testimonials from Members of the East Providence Area Chamber of Commerce

In the past year my company has leased space to two new tenants due to my affiliation with the Chamber. My membership dues are nominal compared to the revenue and referrals my company has received.

I have also utilized fellow chamber members as recourse for numerous products and services that I use in the day-to-day operations of my business. They have proven to be a cost effective addition to my vendor base.

My sales have increased through my participation with the East Providence Area Chamber. By attending several business after hours events over the past year, I have been able to work with several members and help them with their networking needs through ticket packages or hospitality suites rentals at our Stadium. I have also made some good friends in the process. Membership has made dollars and $ense for myself and the organization!!

Throughout my many years as a chamber member, I have met numerous people who were Wood's Heating customers or would become customers because of my association with the Chamber. By regularly attending the Chamber's networking events, I have developed friendships and business connections that are invaluable to me and my company. Whenever possible, I personally utilize the services and products of fellow chamber members; as does Wood's Heating. And, it's easy to find out which businesses are member, too! They're in the Business Directory on the Chamber's Web site.

As we begin our second year of chamber membership, I want to thank you for all your support and assistance and let you know what a great resource the chamber has been for the Town Planner! Every business can benefit from a chamber membership in many ways, especially those that are new in the community.

I have found the Business After & During Hours monthly networking events to be especially helpful when promoting my company. These events provide a casual & friendly atmosphere to make contacts and develop business relationships with other professionals who prefer doing business with fellow members. In fact, many of our new clients have come directly from the contacts I've made at these events. I also appreciate the continuous communication from the chamber that keeps me informed of local and statewide economic and business issues.

I look forward to continuing our partnership with the chamber again this year.

My involvement in the East Providence Area Chamber has greatly increased my company's visibility and recognition. In the past year, I have received 3 targeted referrals which have resulted in business revenue that has more than paid for my membership dues. The Chamber is a valuable investment and resource -- particularly for small business.
